

SPECIALTY SERVICES

Where Ingenuity and Skill Surpass Every Challenge

The AXIOS Industrial team delivers diversified solutions to meet all your project's industrial services needs. For jobs with unique specifications, AXIOS leverages our 50-plus years of experience to provide customized specialty solutions to enhance capital projects, turnarounds and routine maintenance.

Diversified, Dynamic and Always Dependable

AXIOS' dynamic solutions help maximize your safety, productivity and efficiency.

Through our corrosion under insulation (CUI) solutions, our experts can help clients implement a proactive strategy to minimize corrosion or deploy a variety of jackets, coatings and techniques to remove corrosion that is already present in industrial equipment.

AXIOS provides specialized coatings to protect and rehabilitate underground pipelines, as well as reinforced linings for fiberglass and other delicate materials.

Drawing from our proven expertise in scaffolding, AXIOS provides 3D modeling and custom installations to help energy sector clients overcome key project challenges.

We use CAD and Navisworks to design solutions that satisfy even the most stringent specifications, and utilize the PERI UP Rosett Flex system to deliver unparalleled flexibility and safety.
